A KEEPSAKE MADE WITH LOVE

Our First Chapter

A little book for My Princess

22 September 2026 — the beginning of us

“One month is only the beginning of all the pages I hope we get to write together.”

For My Princess

My love,

Happy first month, my princess. ❤■

It may be only one month on the calendar, but to me it is a meaningful beginning: the start of choosing to learn you, care for you, and make space for the little things that make you who you are.

I don’t need a perfect speech to tell you what I hope you feel with me. I want you to feel appreciated, respected, safe to be yourself, and reminded that you matter. I want my actions to keep giving meaning to the sweet words I say.

Thank you for being part of this first chapter with me. I’m excited for the conversations still to come, the memories we haven’t made yet, the laughter we’ll share, and the ways we’ll keep discovering each other.

This is not a promise that every day will be perfect. It is a promise to keep showing up with honesty, patience, kindness, and effort — and to keep learning how to love you well.

With all my heart,
Your person

Chapter One: The Beginning of Us

Every story has a first page. Ours began on 22 September 2026, and today I'm celebrating the fact that we decided to begin this story together.

I don't want to pretend that I can fit everything about us into a few pages. The best parts will be written in real life: in the moments we remember, the things we learn, and the care we give each other when it matters.

For now, I want to mark this little milestone and say something simple: I'm glad this chapter has you in it.

Chapter Two: The Little Things I Want You to Know

I want to listen to you, not just wait for my turn to speak. I want to understand what makes you happy, what weighs on your heart, what makes you laugh, and what helps you feel loved.

I want to celebrate your wins without making them about me, encourage you when things feel difficult, and respect the person you are beyond our relationship. You deserve love that makes room for your whole self.

And I want to keep noticing the small things — because love is not only made of grand gestures. It is also made of attention, consistency, and choosing tenderness in ordinary moments.

Chapter Three: 30 Reasons You’re Special

1. Because you are the person this little book is for.

2. Because getting to know you is a journey worth taking.

3. Because your feelings deserve care.

4. Because your dreams deserve encouragement.

5. Because your voice deserves to be heard.

6. Because your boundaries deserve respect.

7. Because you deserve honesty.

8. Because you deserve patience.

9. Because you deserve affection that feels genuine.

10. Because your happiness matters.

11. Because your worries matter too.

12. Because you should never have to pretend to be okay.

13. Because your individuality is worth celebrating.

14. Because trust is worth protecting.

15. Because laughter makes life lighter.

16. Because little efforts can mean a lot.

17. Because kindness should be part of our everyday.

18. Because good communication is worth practising.

19. Because growing together takes courage.

20. Because apologies should lead to learning.

21. Because appreciation should be spoken out loud.

22. Because the small milestones count.

23. Because making memories is something to look forward to.

24. Because you deserve to feel chosen, not assumed.

25. Because your time is valuable.

26. Because your ideas deserve curiosity.

27. Because tenderness is a strength.

28. Because love should leave room for friendship.

29. Because this first chapter matters to me.

30. Because I'm looking forward to discovering many more reasons.

Chapter Four: What I Hope We Build

I hope we build something honest — a relationship where we can talk openly, hear each other out, laugh freely, and work through misunderstandings with respect.

I hope we keep making room for each other's goals and individuality. I hope we become better at understanding each other, not because we always get everything right, but because we are willing to learn.

I hope the next chapters hold beautiful memories, unexpected joys, and the kind of steady love that is shown in everyday choices. We don't have to rush the story. We can let it grow one page at a time.

A Little Note for the Days You Need Reassurance

My princess, if you ever have a day when you doubt how much you matter, I hope you remember that you deserve care even on the days when you feel tired, quiet, worried, or unsure. You do not have to earn kindness by being perfect.

I want to keep learning the ways you feel loved, and I want us to be able to tell each other what we need. You matter as a person, not only as my girlfriend.

The Last Page — For Now

Happy first month, my princess. ❤■

This little book cannot hold every feeling or tell every part of our story. It can only mark the beginning and remind you that I wanted to do something thoughtful for you, something you can keep and come back to.

Thank you for being here for this first chapter. Here’s to more pages, more understanding, more laughter, more growth, and more reasons to be grateful that our paths crossed.

I care about you, and I’m excited to keep building this with you — one day, one choice, and one chapter at a time.

Forever in progress, with love.
